John Paul College
ROTORUA | NEW ZEALAND

TENNIS

Programme:

A tailor-made individual programme can be arranged for whatever level of tennis the student may be. Should the student be a high performance athlete then a comprehensive programme including participation in tournaments and competitions in the larger cities can be organised. Training will take place mostly at the Rotorua Tennis Club—a well established, very social and active organisation.

Coaching:

Henry Gers is currently ranked within the top 50 players in New Zealand and earlier he actively participated in ITF events in America and Europe. His career high was 174 in the Junior World rankings. He has rich coaching experience having worked in prestigious tennis academies around the world, including the Post Sport Karlsruhe (PSK) in Germany and the Gorin Tennis Academy in the USA. In New Zealand he has achieved a great deal of success with regional and national winners.

Cost:

To join the Rotorua Tennis Club costs $50 a month. One-on-one coaching can cost up to $60 per hour but this amount can be re-negotiated depending on certain conditions. Elite small group training usually takes place in 1 1/2 hour sessions, twice a week. The range of tournaments include Regional Junior, Adult/Open and ITF (International U18) ones. These events do however involve extra expenses such as travelling, tournament registration and accommodation costs.

Additional Information:

Playing tennis is a wonderful way to integrate with the community and make friends. Many JPC students also play the sport. Further useful information can be accessed on: www.tennisnz.com
