MINISTRY OF EDUCATION DECLINES APPLICATION FOR ROLL INCREASE

I regret to advise that the Ministry of Education has declined, for the third time, an application for a roll increase at John Paul College from 1100 to 1200.

John Paul College has the infrastructure and teachers to accommodate an additional 100 students and we fully believe it would have no adverse impact on the roll of other schools in the area.

We are greatly disappointed on behalf of the number of families who wish to have a John Paul College education for their children. They have been denied the right to choose a school that best meets the needs of their children.

We will continue dialogue with the Ministry on this matter.

6 TIPS FOR MANAGING EXAM STRESS

By Karen Boyes

There is one week to go before national school exams and if you are starting to get stressed about exam time – this is great news.

Why stress is good.....

Experiencing stress before exams is a good thing! Stress causes your adrenaline to pump and allows you to work longer hours and stay on task more. A 2013 study from Daniela Kaufer and Elizabeth Kirby at the University of California, Berkeley, found that small doses of stress can propel you forward and enable you to meet a challenge. As a time frame gets closer so the stress rises. This is natural and normal and managing it is important. Too much stress can have a negative effect on your memory. Of course, memory is essential in an exam – ultimately you are required to remember what you have learned and how to apply your knowledge to answer the questions.

What to do over the following week...

1. Make a plan – do not leave it to chance. Draw up a timetable and stick to it. Place in the important features of your week, meal times, sports practice, church etc and add your study around these. If you can, you may wish to lessen your out of school activities for the next 4 weeks and then you can devote your time to them after the exams.
2. Learn what you don't know – of all the tips, the most important in the last few weeks is to concentrate on learning the information you don't know. Going over what you know is a waste of time – it might make you feel good, however learning is learning what you don't know. Pull out your old tests, assignments, practice exam papers and learn the questions you got wrong. This sounds simple and it can be hard yet is the MOST IMPORTANT tip. Ask your teachers to help clarify confusions, google other teachers lessons or search for study notes online to help.
3. Study in small segments – The best tip is to study for 20 minutes and take a 5 minute break. This is especially useful if motivation is lacking or the content is difficult. During the 5 minute break, ensure you leave the room so your brain knows you are on a break. You might choose to stretch, get some fresh air, do a few start jumps, eat some brain food, drink a glass of water and quickly check your social networking sites. To help keep you on a track, download the iStudyAlarm available for smart phones.
4. Eat well – Just as an athlete prepares for the big game or race, eating well in the weeks before your exams is imperative. Ensure you eat breakfast each day, as this will help minimise the bad stress. Eat smaller meals throughout the day, rather than big meals (that take a huge amount of energy to digest). Decrease your sugar and caffeine intake and increase your water consumption. Research shows eating an apple gives longer sustained focus than a cup of coffee.
5. Relax – To manage high stress levels, ensure you do something each day to relax. It may be as simple as 10 long slow breaths 2-3 times a day, some slow stretching, gentle swimming or jogging, meditation, yoga or any activity that helps you unwind and relax. Avoid screen time when relaxing as the changing images on the screen often cause your brain to go into a fight/flight state of high alert.
6. Focus on the goal – Four weeks is such a short time in your life so focus on the big picture – the reason you are sitting the exams; to get yourself ahead in life, to get into the course you want next year or whatever your goal is. A helpful activity is to visualise yourself being successful in your exams.

Congratulations to Makayla Timoti from 10LJ who on Saturday night became the recipient of the Mataatua Junior Sports Woman of the Year Award for 2016 in recognition of her sporting accomplishments at a local, regional, national and international world level in Waka Ama.

STUDY LINK

Students planning to go to tertiary study after they leave school should apply for their Student Allowance or Loan by 16 December.

StudyLink expects around 180,000 students to apply for their Student Allowance or Loan for the 2017 academic year.

Applying by 16 December means StudyLink can get everything sorted so that the student receives their funding from the start of their course.

Students don't need to have their NCEA results or have locked down all their plans in order to apply.

Their application can be updated as things are confirmed. It's more important to allow enough time for all the steps in the application process to be completed.

Students can find out more about applying for a Student Allowance or Loan on the StudyLink website.

Pop a reminder in your calendar, or even better – go straight to studylink.govt.nz to apply now.
